
RENOVATE

INTRODUCTION

We're inundated with self-help books, experts, counselors, and even pastors who offer advice on symptoms instead of root causes. Most of the advice we hear about personal growth focuses on changing problematic behaviors or negative emotions. But what if the driving force behind how we act and feel is actually what we believe?

USING THIS GUIDE

1. Print a copy of the guide for each member of your group.
 2. Watch the video as a group or watch individually prior to your group.
 3. Take ten minutes to complete the activity during your group session.
 4. Discuss the questions as a group.

DISCUSSION BEGINS ON THE NEXT PAGE

LET'S TALK ABOUT IT

1. Talk about an influential relationship, event, or religious experience that came to mind as you worked through the activity.
2. Based on the experience you shared in question one, has that influence shaped what you believe or how you behave? Explain.
3. Were you reserved or outgoing as a child? To what extent has that tendency continued into your adulthood?
4. Talk about a time you changed a behavior in order to achieve a specific goal. Did you achieve your goal? Was the change in behavior lasting?
5. In the video message, Chris says, "To change our unhealthy behaviors, we have to change our false beliefs." Is that difficult for you to believe? Why or why not?
